

MITTEILUNGSBLATT
des
INSTITUTS FÜR SOZIALE BEWEGUNGEN

Labour and Social History in Great Britain:
Historiographical Reviews and Agendas,
1990 to the Present

No. 27/2002

Table of Contents:

Stefan Berger Introduction	5
I. The Labour Movement
Lawrence Black Labour at 100	19
Steven Fielding 'New' Labour and the 'New' Labour History	35
John Callaghan The Foreign Policies of the Labour Party	51
Kevin Morgan Labour with Knobs on? The Recent Historiography of the British Communist Party	69
Alastair Reid Trade Union History: The Consolidation of Revisionism	85

Chris Wrigley
The Co-operative Movement	103
Dan Weinbren
'Imagined Families': Research on Friendly Societies	117

II. Social and Intellectual History

Andy Croll
The Impact of Postmodernism on Modern British Social History.	137
Ross McKibbin
Classes and Cultures: a Postscript	153
Edmund Neill
British Political Thought in the 1990s: Thatcherism, Citizenship and Social Democracy	167
Karen Hunt
Gender and Labour History in the 1990s	185

III. Institutions

Stefan Berger interviews John Halstead
The Society for the Study of Labour History and its Journal	201
Notes on Authors	213